	 The image contains two representations of the SM 203 machine. On the left is a technical line drawing showing the machine's dimensions: a length of 632 mm, a width of 422 mm, and a height of 805 mm. The drawing highlights the control panel on the front and the strapping mechanism on top. On the right is a color photograph of the actual machine, which is light blue and mounted on four casters. The control panel is visible on the front, featuring a red emergency stop button, a pressure gauge, and several indicator lights and switches. SM 203
